TIMING OF THE DISCLOSURE

The instant Information Disclosure Statement is believed to be filed in accordance with 37 C.F.R. 1.97(b), prior to the mailing date of a first Office Action on the merits (first scenario). If that is not the case, such as in a second scenario in which a first Office Action on the merits has been mailed before the filing of the instant Information Disclosure Statement, then either a certification or fee is required, and a certification is provided below. If neither of the first or second scenarios is the case, such as if a final Office Action or a notice of allowance has been mailed by the PTO (third scenario), then both a certification and fee are required, and in that case a certification is provided below and also the PTO is authorized to obtain the necessary fee to have the instant IDS considered, from Foley & Lardner Deposit Account #19-0741.

CERTIFICATION

The undersigned hereby certifies in accordance with 37 C.F.R. §1.97(e)(1) that each item of information contained in this Information Disclosure Statement was first cited in a communication from a foreign patent office in a counterpart foreign application not more than three (3) months prior to the filing of this Statement.

RELEVANCE OF EACH DOCUMENT

A translation of a portion of a Japanese Office Action that issued July 27, 2004 with respect to a counterpart Japanese patent application is provided below.

"Reasons

- A. The inventions related to the following claims of the present application do not fulfill the conditions stipulated in Note 1 of Article 29 of the Japan Patent Law in the aspects described below, and therefore cannot receive a patent.

Note

Claims 1-11 describe having functional means such as " . . . means," but the descriptions specifying each of the functional means simply specify means that should fulfill the various functions, and do not specify how the computer hardware resources can be used for a specific technological means that has actually been created for fulfilling these functions. In other words, the claims are not descriptions that specify a computer system wherein the data processing by the software is actually achieved using the hardware resources of the computer.

Consequently, the claims do not contain inventions of "technical concepts using natural laws," because there is no specific description of the use of the computer hardware by the information processing by the software.

- B. The inventions related to the following claims of the present application could have been easily invented by a person with ordinary knowledge of technology in the field to which the invention belongs prior to the filing of this application based on the inventions recited in the publications below, which had been distributed in Japan or abroad prior to the filing of this application, or on inventions made publicly available for use by means of telecommunications networks prior to the filing of this application, and therefore cannot receive a patent according to the stipulations of Article 29, Paragraph 2 of the Japan Patent Law.

Note

(For a list of the cited literature, see the List of Cited Literature.)

Cited Literature 1-4 describe the matter of the settlement processes for the agreed upon payments being done automatically by the bank account.

Cited Literature 5 describes the matter of the transaction being performed if the buy/sell conditions (corresponding to the "constraints") are fulfilled.

The creation of the present invention could be achieved easily from Cited Literature 1-5.
